The IG complaints program investigates violations of standards and provides redress or appeals where none already exist.

You have the right to file an IG complaint, at any level, without fear of reprisal; but first verify the facts and give your chain of command a chance to handle the problem. Experience has shown that supervisors and commanders can best solve complaints. Although not required, we highly encourage you to discuss your problem with your immediate supervisor, first sergeant, unit commander or next-level commander (as appropriate) before coming to the IG.

No one may take a wrong action against you because you complained. If you think a wrong action has been taken against you because you complained, tell your IG.
